BOOST THE OHIO RIVER ROUTE

VICTORY LOAN TO BEGIN APRIL 21,

Will Last Three Weeks. This One is Expected to be the Last One Undertaken By Govt.

The 8th Liberty Loan Drive, which will be known as the Victory Liberty Loan, will according to a statement made on March 12th by Carter Glass, Secretary of the Treasury, be opened on Monday, April 21st, will last three weeks, and will end Saturday, May 10th.

This is expected to be the last liberty loan undertaken by the Government. The amount of the loan and the rate of interest have not yet been announced by the Treasury Department.

This issue of Government liberty securities will consist of short-term notes rather than long-term bonds, such as were issued during the first four Liberty Loan drives.

Secretary Glass has authority, in the laws under which the last three liberty bond issues were sold, to offer for sale additional liberty bonds up to $5,025,518,000; however, the rate of interest on such bonds is limited by law to 4 1/4 per cent. Moreover, they would be subject to super-taxes and profit taxes, and it is thought that they would not be likely to prove a real success, consequently the issuance of short-term notes will be resorted to during the coming drive.

Under the Bond Act of March 3, 1919, recently passed by Congress, the Secretary of the Treasury has been given authority to issue short-term notes to the amount of $7,000,000. He also has authority to make the conditions and rate of interest more attractive than the 4 1/4 per cent long-term bonds.

Assumes Her Work Again.

The friends of Miss Julia Wroe, particularly her admiring little pupils were happy to see her at her work as primary teacher in the Cloverport Public school, on Monday morning after an absence of three weeks of tonsilitis.

During Miss Wroe's illness, her sister, Mrs. Carl Brittan substituted for her in the school.

Freight Trains Will Have Through Runs.

Beginning Sunday, March 30, all of the freight trains over the L. H. & St. L. R. R. will make through runs from Howell to Louisville. Before this, the trainmen were cut out here at the local shops and a new crew relieved them but from now on they will have a through run and will either be laid over in Louisville or Howell.

This new ruling makes a vast difference in Cloverport as several of the engineers own their homes here, in fact all of the trainmen composed a large part of the male population here as they were in and out so frequently. The change will affect very seriously, the boarding and rooming house business.

This Company has contracted for 1,150 acres of land between Cloverport and Stanley on both sides of the Ohio River, which will be grown in tomatoes, and the tomatoes will be shipped on barges.

The company will can only the pulp in the five gallon cans and sell to factories which will make the pulp into catsup and retail products. It is adjudged 150 people will be on the pay-roll in the canning department.

Machinery is being ordered to operate the canning department and it is expected to arrive about June 1 and to be installed and ready for work in earnest at the beginning of the tomato season in July.

Undergoes Operation For Appendicitis.

ANOTHER GOOD ROAD MEETING

J. D. Starks Instigator In Getting The Hawesville Buffalo Wallow Road Repaired.

The good roads fever is having a regular epidemic in this part of the country. If it takes hold of its victims as tenaciously and results in as much good as the "flu" epidemic has resulted in sorrow and woe, there is doubt but that in a year or so had roads will be a thing of the past around Cloverport.

Another good roads meeting which is to be a big day is the one Mr. J. D. Starks is instigator of. Mr. Stark says the road near Buffalo Wallow which leads to Hawesville is in a dangerous condition, and repairs cannot be made on it too quickly or else it will be scene of some horrible accident one of these days. It is near to be being impossible.

So Mr. Stark has set apart April 10 as a good road meeting day for the people of that neighborhood and all others who traverse this road and are anxious to see it improved. Mr. Stark has made the invitation a general one, and he asks that the men bring their pick and shovels along with their dinner pail. In fact they may bring any kind of tools to work with except post-hole diggers. "But there is no use for those, we have enough holes in the road," said Mr. Stark.

Mr. Stark is planning to have a little play mingled with the work, and at the noon hour hour he will have a speaker or two and probably some music if the latter can be had.

It will be a day full of good work and a wholesome good time so Mr. Stark urges that all come who will and be there at 8 o'clock.

Remember the date, April 10! The road, Hawesville and Buffalo Wallow Meeting place, Hamilton House, 2 miles from Cloverport at seven o'clock.

Citizens of Cloverport, who are interested and of course every one is interested, should attend this meeting in person or send a representative. This road will open up a good section of the county and attract many good citizens to this place. Help-Help-Help till it hurts.

Prominent Hardinsburg Couple Elope.

Miss Clara H. Beard, age 18, and Mr. David Drane Davis, 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Davis of Hardinsburg, motored to Cannetton, Sunday afternoon, March 23 and were married. The young couple were accompanied by Miss Mona Hall and Mr. Paul Garner who witnessed the ceremony.

The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Beard of Hardinsburg, and a member of a prominent family in the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis will make their home in Hardinsburg.

NEW STANDARDS IN JUDGING CARS

By O. L. Black, Vice-President, Auburn Motor Sales Co., Inc.

With the tremendous increase in the use of the automobile has come a decided change in the attitude of the purchasing public. A decade or two ago, buyers were often influenced by considerations which to-day seem immaterial. Some sought the most expensive car, some the heaviest, some the machine which had achieved the highest speed in the most recent races.

Since the automobile has become an everyday necessity, rather than a novelty and a toy, standards have changed. Experience has taught the motorist that price is not always an accurate indication of quality, that heavy cars mean undue expense in upkeep, and that the car which gains speed supremacy in the abnormal test of a race is not necessarily the best car adapted to the normal requirements of the average man.

High price, excess weight and racing speed then, have been generally discarded as criteria.

The new standards are economy in price, economy in operation and beauty in design. I believe that the success of a car in the future will depend upon its conformity to these demands. It is a source of pleasure to me, therefore, to know that the Auburn Beauty-Six meets with the requirements of the most exacting.

For nineteen years, the genius of the Auburn engineers has been directed

BIG MEETING TO BE IN CLOVERPORT APRIL 3

Good Roads Enthusiasts Will Make Plans for Federal Highway

Representatives From Seven Counties Will Attend This Meeting

Good roads enthusiasts from Union, Henderson, Daviess, Hancock, Breckinridge, Meade and Jefferson counties are making great preparations to attend the good roads meeting held in Cloverport, Thursday, April 3, in interest of the proposed highway from Owensboro to Louisville taking in the river road, and to be called the Ohio River Route.

Along with these representatives will be Mr. Rodman Wiley, State Road Commissioner, from Frankfort; Judge G. W. Newman of Hancock County; Judge S. B. Payne of Breckinridge, and many other State and county officials. Besides there will be a large delegation from Louisville Automobile Club.

Daviess County citizens, particularly from Owensboro, are going to have a large representation. Judge C. W. Wells called a mass meeting Tuesday night at the court house in Owensboro in interest of this meeting, and he urged the people from that section to attend.

It is expected that the farmers of this community will all be here as the road will mean much to them.

Hawesville is pulling for the highway to come through there, and Judge Newman was instrumental in getting up this meeting.

It is generally anticipated by those most interested in Cloverport's future progress, that Thursday, April 3, will be sort of a happy reminder of the good old days when Masonic barbecues were in vogue and the streets were thronged with strange faces of men, women and children, out for a good time. Only on Thursday, the faces of women and children will probably be conspicuously absent, for it happens that this is to be a thoroughly business meeting and strenuous efforts will be made by business and professional men, farmers and men in all works of life, to plan the proposed highway from Owensboro to Louisville.

It is not likely that the visitors will number into the thousands as in barbecue times, but there is no doubt but what there will be a large crowd here, and Cloverporters are going to dress up in their best "bib and tucker," close up shop, if necessary, and go out to meet them with a grand and glorious welcome.

Cloverporters Enthused

The enthusiasm over the meeting is not just among those who are coming here Thursday, but the people of this place are greatly enthused, and the men who are pushing the plans are quite hopeful that the road will come through this way.

The business men held a meeting, Saturday night and discussed the highway. Mr. Paul Lewis, Cashier of the Breckinridge-Bank of Cloverport, says that subscriptions from local citizens may be safely estimated to the amount of $8,000.

A great deal is depending on the farmers of this community. If they are in favor of having the road and will consent to pay $2.00 an acre on their land, there will be no trouble in getting it. The road is to be built through State and Federal Aid. For every 25 cents the citizens subscribe the State and Government will give 75 cents.

Women To Serve Lunch.

Mr. Chas Hamman, Cloverport's former Mayor, is taking an active interest in the meeting and he heads the Entertainment Committee. Mr. Hamman has solicited the help of the women in serving the 12 o'clock lunch at the Masonic banquet hall to all the visitors. The lunch will be free of course.

Meeting in the Bushman Theatre.

In the afternoon, a meeting will be held in the Bushman Theatre where Rodman Wiley, State Road Commissioner, and others will talk on the proposed highway.

A special program of the day's speakers has not been arranged, but if the day is at all favorable more than likely the meeting will be held out of doors. Where everyone can see and hear what's going on.

SMOKING TOBACCO FACTS FROM THE ENCYCLOPAEDIA

The Use of Flavorings Determines Difference In Branks

The Encyclopedia Britannica says about the manufacture of smoking tobacco: "...on the Continent, as I in America, certain 'sauces' are employed...the use of the 'sauces' is to improve the flavor and burning qualities of the leaves." Which indicates that a smoker's enjoyment depends as much upon the flavoring used as upon the tobacco.

Your nose is a sure guide in the matter of flavorings. Try this simple test with several tobacco brands: pour some tobacco into your palm, rub briskly, and smell. You will notice a distinct difference in the fragrance of every brand. The tobacco that smells best to you will smoke best in your pipe, you can rest assured.

Carefully aged, old Burley tobacco, plus a dash of pure chocolate, gives TUXEDO Tobacco a pure fragrance from your nose can quickly distinguish from any other tobacco. Try it and see.

THE THING TO BEAR IN MIND.

It is well for us to bear in mind that the good roads meeting to be held in Cloverport, on Thursday is not altogether a meeting just to have a good time, but one in which we must accomplish something definite in regard to getting this proposed federal highway from Owensboro to Louisville to be routed through here.

The road enthusiasts all over the State are anxious for the road to be built along the Ohio River and be known as the Ohio River Route. The one object in having it along the river is principally because of the wonderful scenery on the Ohio. This highway would, in time, be known universally because of its grand scenery, and there could be only a few places in the world to compare with it when it comes to natural scenery.

Now then to point out the advantages of having this federal highway coming through Cloverport, would be like trying to untangle a mass of yarn. The advantages are so numerous that any attempt to discuss or explain each, would be as endless a job as untangling the yarn. But now-a-days it is not necessary to explain advantages of good roads. Every man, woman and child knows the value of them and the pleasure one can have from them. We feel that we should be reflecting upon the intelligence of readers if we should attempt to go into any details regarding the advantages of this highway.

However there is a vast difference between seeing and doing. And getting folks to do and to act is the thing that makes us gray headed and causes us to keep our minds ever on the alert. If men would only do as they see what should be done, there would be no necessity for us over working our brain power.

We are more anxious to see the farmers in this community take hold of this project than anyone else. If the farmers are in favor of it and are willing to pay $2.00 per acre on their land, then we will get the highway without a doubt. It will mean more to the farmers in increasing the value of their property and marketing their products than anything they could get.

So it is up to the farmers and citizens alike to pull for the Ohio River Route through here and lets not fail in this civic improvement any more than we would have wanted our American soldiers to have failed in their project of overwhelming the Huns. Having this highway through Cloverport will mean as much to our future welfare as subduing the Huns meant to the world. Therefore we must not fail to bear in mind the main object of the meeting, and may we get some concrete results.

WITH THE HOME BOYS IN SERVICE

WITH THE MILITARY POLICE FORCE.

Following are two letters from Pvt. Philip A. Gardner, 23rd Co. M. P. C. who is in France. The letters are addressed to his wife who was before her marriage Miss Eugene Miller of Hardinsburg. Mrs. Gardner is now in Towanda, Ill.

Dear Wife: I will try and write a few lines while I have a little spare time. I am a day or two late this week. I have been getting a bunch of mail this week. All of the old letters addressed to Bat. A., 327 F. A. are just now getting here. Better late than never. I haven't received all I should yet.

One of the letters stated that Beatrice was dead, and you told me to tell Frank. But it is too late. Frank is at home in civilian clothes by this time. I would love to know how long it will be before I am coming home.

Well, how is every body by this time? I have a dreadful cold and am so hoarse, can hardly talk above a whisper, and my ears are stopped up so I can't hear myself think. Outside of that I am O. K.

Mother said she received their Christmas presents and they were awfully nice. And Mabel thinks Myrtle's ring was so pretty. Said Myrtle was so proud of it. I am awfully sorry I could not get you anything for Xmas but maybe I will be at home for next Xmas. Suppose you will be laughing at me talking about Xmas and presents but all of this is new to me for I just received the news. I just got my Red Cross sweater about two weeks ago. It comes in handy even if it is late.

I have been going to have my pictures made but I can't get started. You know how I am that way don't you dearie? I will get started one of these days.

We had russet shoes issued to us yesterday. I can doll up now even if one is bigger than the other. The big shoe is for my left foot, the one that has a corn on it so I am lucky at that.

General Pershing came to Bord-eaux yesterday so we had a little extra duty to do. I had the pleasure of seeing him this morning. And also got to salute him as he passed within three feet of where I was standing.

Guess I have told all I know so I will close. With lots of love and kisses from your husband. Pvt. Philip A. Gardner.

A New Year's Letter.

Dear Wife: I will write you a few lines today and start the New Year off O. K. I am feeling fine and dandy and hope these few lines will find you the same.

I am still here at this old M. P. training camp but expect to leave any minute. I will be stationed in Bord-eaux. I am so anxious to leave this

BARGE CANALS AND GANALIZED RIVERS

Editor "Breckenridge News"—

In responding to your request for an article on the above subject, I confess myself somewhat at a loss to know how to do both you and the subject justice, for you naturally want brevity, and the subject is so large that it is difficult to abbreviate.

However I will present a sketch of the present situation.

Much has been said and much has been done in the past in an effort to develop an inland water-way system

At a recent water-way convention attended by the writer, Washington was declared not only the "Father of His Country" but the "Father of the American Canal," by reason of his having initiated a movement resulting in the construction of a number of the Eastern canals.

An early type is the recently abandoned canal across Ohio from Toledo to Cincinnati, with a depth of four (4) to six (6) feet, a bottom width of 26 to 30 feet and floating canal boats of 70 to 100 tons capacity.

This canal was opened for traffic in 1842.

A modern type is the New York State Barge Canal, having a depth of twelve (12) feet, a bottom width of 75 feet and floating barges up to 3000 tons capacity.

There are two great systems of inland water-ways and they are The Great Lakes System, including the St. Lawrence river, New York Barge Canal and the Hudson river, and The Mississippi Valley System, including the Ohio and Missouri rivers. The former comprises 2500 miles and the latter 14000 miles of navigable channel.

Only about 200 miles divides these two great systems, and the three water ways conventions held since the first of January last, were called principally to hasten the union of these two systems and the further development of the latter, so that a 3000 ton barge may pass freely between New York and New Orleans with smaller barges for purely local traffic.

Illinois has appropriated funds for the enlargement of the old Illinois Toledo. His business is that of enlarging the canal and the canalization of the gineering the construction of waterways, etc. The Breckinridge News is

Twenty-five of the 42 locks and dams required in the canalization of this very interesting article, and it's the Ohio river have been completed, readers who are interested in this and the recent Congress has appro-

I handle any of these horses. I believe I will like this job pretty good after I get started. But the idea of staying over here when I am needed so badly at home. I think they should take single men for this work for they have no one to take care of but themselves.

This climate does not seem to agree with me in a way for I am horse as can be at night. Have had a cold printed funds for completing the surveys for the barge canal across Ohio.

The Welland Canal is being enlarged for ocean going vessels, and the enlargement of the St. Lawrence river canal is expected to follow in the near future.

The greatest oil refinery in the world is now being built at Toledo, with the expectation of being able to be direct to all foreign countries.

The railroads have bitterly fought inland water-ways in the past, and boat lines such as the Louisville and Evansville Packet Company, have been bought and put out of commission, but backed by an enlightened public opinion, the Interstate Commerce Commission is expected to protect this trade in the future.

The State of New York has faith, for she has just expended $150,000,000 on her barge canal. Congress has faith, for it has recently expended $30,000,000 in the canalization of the Ohio river, has placed 29 barges in

Commission on the lower Mississippi and has appropriated $10,000,000 additional for new barges to operate between Minneapolis and New Orleans.

It is expected that the Maumee river will ultimately be canalized Toledo to Ft. Wayne, and a barge canal constructed from there to Chicago.

This will increase the season of navigation on the Lower Lakes about six (6) weeks, and greatly shorten the water route eastward from Chicago.

The Government will purchase the Cape Cod Canal and enlarge the New Jersey Canal and the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal. Then there will be a good, safe inland water way from Boston to Norfolk.

Such, in brief, is the present situation as regards the American Inland Water Way System.

ABANDONED WESTERN OIL FIELDS FOR RICHER PROMISE IN ZINC ORE

Organization of the Louisville
Mansfield Zinc & Lead Syndicate Reveals Business
Romance

Dr. T. T. Beeler, Dentist, Then Oil
Magnate, Sold Interest in 157
Wells for Bigger Prospects.

Louisville, Ky.—How a business romance, blossoming in the bosom of Mother Earth, led the way to a dream of affluence that is fast materializing, is brought out in the organization here of the Louisville Lead & Zinc Syndicate Company, a corporation the stock of which rapidly is becoming the property of the public. That it is not a romance of the oil fields will be a matter of surprise to those who look largely to the oil well as the fountain of business romance.

Formation of the Louisville Mansfield Lead & Zinc Syndicate follows closely upon organization of the Kentucky Mansfield Lead & Zinc Syndicate, a corporation already on an operating and dividend-paying basis, but the romance goes back eleven years to the oil fields of the west and to a dentist's chair in a small Oklahoma town.

Dr. T. T. Beeler.

In a suite of offices in the Starks Building a small keen-eyed man, trying to make every minute yield its quota of result of an atmosphere of high pressure, knows all about the romance, for he had lived it. He is Dr. T. T. Beeler, vice president of the new LOUISVILLE MANSFIELD LEAD & ZINC SYNDICATE. He is the man who, eleven years ago, while a practicing dentist in an Oklahoma town, became interested in western oil development. With holdings in 157 oil wells after he had become successful in that game, Dr. Beeler had wide opportunities to observe the possibilities and exigencies of that business, or game, as it may rightly be called. He saw men carried up into the realm of sudden riches; he saw hopes fulfilled beyond their own limits. But he saw the other side, too, of the oil game—its uncertainty, and the ruin that this uncertainty brought to some.

One day Dr. Beeler heard about the strike made in the famous Joplin zinc ore district. He began studying the possibilities of the new found opportunity. He reflected that in the oil business, when a well was drilled, no mortal could with certainty tell which of four things would be the result—oil, water, gas or a hole in the ground. He reflected that an oil well drilled from 1,100 to 3,300 feet in the ground, cost from $5,000 to $30,000 before its real promise was known. And then he compared this with data he had gathered about the mining industry, in which nature's store of wealth lie comparatively close to the surface and covers great areas, necessitating, in proportion, a small initial outlay. He applied this comparison particularly to what he had heard about the Joplin-Mansfield fields.

Dr. Beeler was not long in making up his mind. It was two years ago in Kansas City that the project, which is now being carried to every state in the Union, had its inception. Dr. Beeler had selected a partner, severed his connections with the oil fields, and had employed an agent, versed in the technique of such an undertaking, to investigate opportunities in the Joplin district.

But it was by chance that the real opportunity was found. One day, when Dr. Beeler's emissary was fruitlessly bleating with people in the field to which prospectors were already swarming, an old man called him aside.

"If you want to see an unworked locality, I want to show you something," said the old man.

As the result of the investigation and assuming which followed, Dr. Beeler, his partner and several notaries, in all of the public automobiles the nearby town afforded, set out in the late afternoon in what is now the Mansfield district. The chauffeurs and the notaries and all others with whom the party came in contact were bound to secrecy. There were neither automobiles nor notaries available for other possible prospectors.

That was October 16, 1917. In a day or so, the prospectors had secured leases on 18,000 acres of land rich in ore, and had laid the foundation of the project which is now becoming na-

¶ We're away over the $200,000 mark!

We've received checks for stock from States as distant as New York and Texas! ¶ Investors are judging the value of the stock of the Louisville Mansfield Lead and Zinc Company by the record of the Kentucky Mansfield Lead and Zinc Syndicate. That company, already in operation, paid a monthly dividend of 2% in January and 3% in February. The officers and directors of both companies are chiefly the same gentlemen and the newer company has been organized to do just what the other is doing but on a larger scale. ¶ Its holdings are greater, consisting of four tracts of 40 acres each in the Mansfield District, right where the Mother Lode of the great Ozark Lead and Zinc fields comes nearest the surface. We've proven our holdings by drilling. We're already sinking the first shaft for our first mill!

which will be enhanced in value with the growing activity surrounding it.

The Kentucky Mansfield Lead & Zinc Syndicate was incorporated June 13, 1918. Its capital stock of $100,000 was quickly sold out. On November 1 it bought its first mill, which soon began operations on the ground, and on February 1 a 2% dividend for January was paid stockholders, following which was paid a 3% dividend for February.

The Kentucky syndicate is made up almost entirely of Kentucky men. Dr.

T. M. Crutcher, of Louisville, head of the Louisville Dental Laboratory, is president, and N. C. Cureton is secretary. W. E. Newbold, of Louisville, is treasurer. Edward J. McDermott, of Louisville, is the corporation's attorney. Dr. Beeler is one of the directors, as is also Dr. Charles A. Fink.

The officers of the LOUISVILLE MANSFIELD LEAD & ZINC SYNDICATE, which was formed February 21, 1918, are the same as those of the Kentucky syndicate except that Dr. Beeler is vice president and J. C. Mahon, well known Louisville businessman, is a director. Over half of the capital stock of $500,000 already has been sold. Offices of the company are at 409 Starks Bldg., Louisville.

The stock is being put out at $1.00 (par value) per share.

The company's property is in the heart of the Ozark Mountains, Wright County, Mo. One forty-acre tract is located between two mills, those of the Kentucky syndicate, known as the "Pioneer Mill," and of W. E. Caldwell, of Louisville, known as the "Red-Bird Mill." This tract considered one of the best in the district although three other forty-acre tracts are well located and partly tested.

So as the new LOUISVILLE MANSFIELD LEAD & ZINC SYNDICATE starts its wheels a-whirling, the business romance of the poor dentist is carried farther along its way to the pocket-books and bank accounts of shrewd investors the country over.

CHRISTMAS DAY

Dear Mother: Christmas day finds me a visitor in Belgium. This leaves me well, hope it finds you the same. I had a good dinner today. I like the people here. This was once a beautiful country, but it is awfully tore up now by the unscrupulous enemy. I like here better than France. I am going to see Brussels, the capitol of Belgium.

One year ago to day I spent Christmas day with friends. I did not think that day I would be in Belgium next Xmas, and thousands of miles away from home and dear friends. So here I am making the best of my lot, still striving to do my bit, and looking forward to the day that I may return to home and friends, peace and liberty.

Six other boys and myself are here in Belgium guarding Government property. Don't know how long we will be here. Have a good place to stay and plenty to eat. We have had fine weather over here. It has been warm and rains every day. It snowed some but it melted as fast as it fell.

I am sending you a Xmas card with the star of peace and coral cross that marks the 70th Division. Major General Kuhn, Commanding the 70th Div., gave it to me.

I have not heard from Seddie since

I have been over here. If I hear from him or see him I will write you. Tell uncle John and aunt Fint howdy for me. Tell Owen Bruner hello. Mother, when did you see Miss Matilda. I mailed you a letter and one to her the 7th of this month. Hope you have gotten them by now. Would like to hear from you all soon. Ask Matilda if little Tonnie still comes to the door and asks to come in. Tell Walter and Dora and all of them I said howdy. Would like to see them all. I do not know how long I will be here. Just as soon as the peace treaty is finished we will get to come home. Good-bye for this time. With love, Peyton.

WORLD'S RICHEST OIL FIELDCOPIED FROM LETTER DATED MARCH 11, 1919
Tampico, Mexico, March 11, 1919.

The Capital Petroleum Company,

Denver, Colorado.

Dear Sirs: I have put a new spot on the Mexican oil map. From this day on it will be locally known as "DR. EAST CAMP." This is the point where I am building the houses, shipping the freight and building the water supply.

The well has been located by Geologist Butters. The well location will be about 400 feet from the camp and will be known as "CARR NUMBER ONE." This will be the assembling point for all tools, machinery and other equipment. We will maintain a boarding house for the workmen here. The commissary will be at Queretaro, about two miles north on the Cuauhtemoc Road ("Main Highway").

Mr. Brookshire, the engineer, will go with me with all field notes to correctly establish the corners. Mr. Brookshire is with the A. B. Hitchman Company of this city and is very familiar with the old landmarks and will probably complete his work within three days. You will appreciate this is a jungle country and he will have to take with him two men to cut the brush as he runs the lines.

Your telegrams come through promptly now.

SUFFERED WITH RHEUMATISM CATARRH AND STOMACH TROUBLE

"I think 'Number 40 For The Blood' as a blood purifier has no equal. When I began to take 'Number 40' I was in very poor health as I had rheumatism, Catarrh, Stomach Trouble, Lead Poisoning, and an Itch that I had tried almost every known remedy to relieve. I have taken six bottles of 'Number 40' and am on a fast road to recovery. I owe my life to it as I used to weigh 127 pounds and now weigh 148, my usual weight. I could write more but this should be enough to convince the most skeptical, and you are at liberty to use this letter anyway you desire." Geo. Klinker, Lima, Ohio.

The ingredients in "Number 40 For The Blood" are set down in the U. S. Dispensatory and other reliable medical books as follows: "Employed in diseases of the glandular system, in blood poison, constipation, stomach and liver troubles, chronic rheumatism, catarrh, sores, ulcers, skin eruptions, mercurial and lead poisoning. Under its use nodes, tumors, scrofulous swellings that have withstood all other treatment disappear as if by magic."

A message to farmers about "Satisfaction guaranteed"

WE say "satisfaction guaranteed" a good deal. We would like to have you know what we mean by that phrase. Satisfaction in clothes means to us exactly what it means to you; you decide it.

All merchandise made by human hands and sold at any store may have defects; none of us are infallible; we can't possibly guarantee merchandise, except that we can guarantee that

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes are all-wool and stylish

But what we can guarantee is that the clothes will satisfy, and if for any reason they don't—we'll make good.

Naturally we have to be pretty careful about the goods we sell, or we couldn't keep on guaranteeing satisfaction on our goods. If anything doesn't satisfy you, we give your money back as much for your sake as for ours; we don't care to keep any money we don't give value for.

"Satisfaction guaranteed" is simply value-giving, and we believe you'll like the spirit at this store.

PROPOSED HIGHWAY FROM HENDERSON

know that we have just had a conference with Rodman Wiley, Commissioner of Public Roads, on this matter. He is very much interested in the proposal and to such extent that he announces that he will designate the Louisville—Owensboro road as a Federal Aid Project provided that Hancock, Breckinridge and Meade Counties will fall in line with the scheme and provide such funds as are sufficient to meet Federal and State Aid in building a road thru their respective counties.

"It is my understanding that Davies county has completed a road to the Hancock County Line. Jefferson County desires to complete the asphalt to the borders of her county. Jefferson County can only secure dollar for dollar on such Federal Projects but Meade, Breckinridge and Hancock Counties will be more fortunate as I understand these counties have an assessed valuation of not more than $16,000,000 in which case the Federal Government and the State of Kentucky will pay three-fourths of the total cost of such roads.

"The Louisville Automobile Club is greatly interested in a road from Louisville to Owensboro for the simple reason that it will give us direct communication with the territory traversed and which is to a certain extent undeveloped because of inadequate highways.

"Won't you please give this matter the widest publicity in Breckinridge County where I know that you have a great deal of influence and any other manner in which you can forward the movement will be greatly appreciated. Sincerely, (Signed) Eugene Stuart, Secretary."

ed toward the evolution of the perfect car. In the 1919 Beauty-Six these engineers present the farthest advance in motor construction. Frugality in consumption of gasoline and lubricating oil are accompanied by economy in the wear of the tires, a saving due to the carefully calculated weight and balance of the chassis. Simplification in construction and extreme determination in the selection of material have reduced the maintenance cost to a minimum. While effecting these economies, moreover, the designers have actually increased the attractiveness of the Beauty-Six.

The Auburn-Six typifies the latest tendencies in motor construction, and I am gratified, the not surprised, at the enthusiastic reception accorded it.

A New Epidemic Appears.

With the cessation of hostilities, a new epidemic has appeared. It is known as the "I'm Thur-enza" and very peculiar its ravages are confined to war workers only.

The initial symptoms is a sense of lassitude—a feeling of What's the use? It's all over. Why should I do war work?

Steps are being taken to isolate the germ—also those who are carrying it. The epidemic is not wide-spread nevertheless its advance must be stemmed.

"Cold Feet" is a marked symptom. Another indication of the presence of the germ is forgetfulness (that the boys are still over there.)

The victims as a rule cannot concentrate the mind (on war work.) The sight becomes impaired (can't see solicitors for war relief funds.) The ears become affected (can't hear the appeals of the world for food.)

Heart doesn't beat as it used to, and in advanced stage that organ seems turned to stone.

How Do They Do It?
I am a would be writer
Of domestic turn of mind.
And I could many stories write,
If I but time could find.
But, just when genius starts to burn
why, so the bread does, too,
And I must put my plot aside—
There's nothing else to do!

Oft times I'm simply aching,
A fairy tale to tell,
But when I get out pad and pen
The baby starts to yell.
I think of an adventure
To make a splendid yarn,
But there—look at that basket!
I've a hundred socks to darn!

And when at last the work seems done
And hope within me sings,
The dog jumps up and starts to growl
And then—the door bell rings!
The iceeman crabs my tale of love.
The milkman kills romance,
A neighbor comes to chat awhile
If I sit down by chance!

The thing that puzzles me—it does
Whene'er I read a book
Is how they ever wrote the thing,
And how much time it took.
I mean, of course, the book's that are Signed by some woman's name.
"Singed by" I say! I'm here to bet
Men wrote them just the same!

For, though rich women have their maids
Too many, by a sight—
My common sense tells me that they
Are not the kind who write.
I'll say it is a mystery—
There's much more to be said
But there—my husband's howling:
"Won't you EVER come to bed?"

Finish The Job

Get this slogan in your mind—finish the job!

That is good old United States language.

It is a slogan of the Victory Liberty Loan—and it fits.

On the eve of the opening of the final drive for funds with which to pay for the trimmings after whipping the Huns, this phrase—finish the job—is illuminating and inspiring. It has the good Yankee punch.

We are not quitters. We believe in playing the game to the end. The pluck and grit which prompted the "Lost Battalion" commander to send his famous "Go-to-Hell" message, is the same sort of pluck and grit we find in our streets anywhere. The occasion alone is required to bring it out.

In the Fifth Loan our workers will go to it with the spirit that insofar as money can assure a lasting peace, we shall see it through if we have to fight for it.

We ourselves are not a "lost battalion," nor stray and wandering aimlessly. We are right here safe on the job. The only thing that's popping around us is some political shrapnel, whose echoes soon will be drowned in the recurrent wave of patriotism, which is bound to buoy us up when the Victory Loan drive gets in full swing. Most of the "Lost Battalion" are with us, thank God, but it is no time to quit. All our boys must be brought home.

Every worker for the Victory Liberty Loan knows full well that the Government must have the money, and we owe it to the boys who fought for us, and we owe it to ourselves and humanity to clinch the victory.

Our country's reputation and credit are at stake. At humanity's court we shall not stop until the Golden Rule has become the rule governing the nation, and first we must live up to it ourselves.

Finish the Job!
